Invitation to debate

For more than a year our challenge to the Muslims and the Muslim apologists has not been met. Many Muslims have come forth hiding their real identity behind a penname and disputed our claims. Their arguments have all been refuted. Getting tired of waiting for the big fish, we decided to invite the more famous apologists of Islam and challenge them to defend their views.

Every once in a while we are going write an invitation to one of them and invite them to debate with us. As the old and now forgotten adage says: “If the mountain does not go to Muhammad, Muhammad goes to the mountain”. So here we are with the most renowned and respected apologists of Islam.
